The specifications for the equipment were determined to best fit the needs of the college's EMS program. A rugged trauma manikin will allow our program to simulate outdoor and transport scenarios that mirror the environments EMTs encounter daily. This investment directly supports student engagement, confidence, and competence—ultimately improving patient care in the community.

Gaumard is the sole provider of the Advanced Trauma HAL S3040.100, specifically engineered to meet the training needs of first responders, EMS, and in-hospital emergency teams. Advanced Trauma HAL helps teams engage in true-to-life training exercises to improve emergency preparedness, response, and patient care.

Offerors contemplating the above requirements are required to include Installation/freight for the equipment, provide documentation and references detailing their ability to meet the College's needs by 4:00pm on Wednesday, November 5, 2025 to the email address below.

In the absence of any other qualified systems, it is the College's intent to make a sole source award via purchase order. The fee is approximately $62,588.31
