MLA Documentation: Authors' names

IN TEXT: MLA documentation is an author/page system; use author or authors' last names and the page number.

- In parenthetical in-text citations are formatted based on ==how many authors== the source has.

- When you use a narrative citation (attribution), it also depends on whether it is the ==first== time ==the source has been used== in the paper or a ==subsequent== use (all uses after the first).

In parenthetical citation (no narrative citation/attribution):

One author	Two authors	Three or more authors
(Chen 17)	(Garcia and Martin 17)	(Stanislau et al. 17)

When using a narrative citation (attribution): *Note: Use a present tense verb.

	==First use:== full name(s) & page #	==Subsequent use:== last name(s) only
1 author	*Darwin Chen, in "Rogerian Reconsidered," concludes … (206) Darwin Chen concludes … (206)	Chen concludes … (206)
2 authors	Ruben Garcia and Taylor Martin, in their evaluation, find … (1145) Ruben Garcia and Taylor Martin find … (1145)	Garcia and Martin find … (1145)
3+ authors	Marcia Stanislau et al., in "Gazing Male in Birdcage," argue … (72) Marcia Stanislau et al. argue … (72)	Stanislau et al. argue … (72)

* Including the title of the source is optional
 et al. = abbreviation of the Latin "et alia," which means "and others"

IN WORKS CITED ENTRIES:

1 author	Chen, Darwin. "Title of Article."….
2 authors	Garcia, Ruben, and Taylor Martin. "Title of Article."….
3+ authors	Stanislau, Marcia, et al. "Title of Article."….

Lewis Hall-321 • 360-416-7855 • SVC.WritingCenter@skagit.edu • skagit.edu/writing-center • ONLINE at skagit.mywconline.com

SVC | SKAGIT VALLEY COLLEGE | Writing Center