The number of students who received HEERF grants during the quarter	683

Method(s) used to determine student eligibility:

During winter 2022, Skagit Valley College (SVC) developed an electronic application to identify and award eligible students. Students must self-attest to all eligibility requirements for HEERF funding at time of application.

The state of Washington was granted a preliminary injunction, allowing HEERF funds to be awarded to non-Title IV eligible students. Based on that injunction, the eligibility requirements were:

1. Enrollment in at least 1.0 credit
2. Citizenship status (US Citizen or eligible Non-Citizen) – NOTE: This requirement was lifted on May 11th, upon updated Department of Education (ED) guidance.
3. Incurred qualifying expenses/financial needs as a result of COVID-19

Financial aid staff review applications to ensure ED eligibility is met. Amounts are provided consistently to each student:

- Winter 2022: $1,000

*Note: Some award amounts exceeded those noted above, based on exceptional need/unique circumstances on a case by case basis, with additional documentation provided.

SVC uses the College's Customer Relationship Management (CRM) software to deploy and track the opt-in applications, the State Board of Community and Technical College (SBCTC) hosted Financial Aid Management system to track awards, and BankMobile and paper checks for funds distribution.

Information for Students:

Eligible Skagit Valley College students who have incurred expenses related to the COVID-19 health crisis may qualify for emergency funding made available via the Federal Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF), previously known as "CARES".
